Afia Examination Table

Top Selling Range of Examination Tables

Lojer's modern, easy to use examination tables have been designed in close collaboration with healthcare professionals to best serve their needs. To ensure consistently high quality, our tables are made in Finland using the latest manufacturing methods and technology. Our popular Afia product family has been specially designed for demanding applications, where patients are moved whilst on the examination table. The tables adapt to a variety of different examination and treatment scenarios, and a number of accessories from our wide range can be combined to meet different needs."

New models: easier to move, more sturdy with design twin castors.
